VOLUME XX

MT. STERLING, KENTUCKY, WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 24, 1910.

NUMBER 7

The Amusing Mr. Heyburn.

Senator Heyburn, of Idaho, has hurled himself into the spot light once again. The lazy stir he created in the public mind recently by inveighing against the statue of Lee at Washington, was evidently not as long-lived as he wished. So the other night at a reception in Wallace, Idaho, he stopped the orchestra playing "Dixie," declaring that "This is a Republican meeting! We want no such tunes here."

A frigid silence followed the outburst. No one applauded the grand-stand play; no one cheered; no one even said, "That's right." Instead, the mayor rose and closed the meeting—and the incident as well.

For his own good, both mental and political, it is unfortunate for Senator Heyburn that he is subject to these attacks of pseudo-patriotism. The waver of the bloody shirt—no longer bloody, and no longer interest-attracting—must be very lonesome. He has only himself to cheer when he makes a banal break like this.

Some friend of Senator Heyburn should tell him the story of what Lincoln said, soon after the war, when a band parading past him began to play "Dixie." The officer standing near the President was shocked and would have stopped the music; but the gentle Chief Executive restrained him. "Not at all, colonel," said he, "That tune is ours—by right of capture."

Still, there is no positive guarantee that the Senator would see the point—even at this late date. —Cincinnati Times-Star.

Surely Not.

A farmer and his wife killed their last hog and left the carcass out at night to cool. It was gone next morning. They agreed to say nothing and they would know the first person mentioning their loss was the thief. Sunday as they entered the church the preacher read out his text: "I have meat to eat that you know not of." Nudging his wife, the old man whispered: "Maria, we never did suspect him, did we?"—Ex.

Roosevelt May Stay at Home.

Theodore Roosevelt may stay out of politics in New York State during the coming campaign as a result of the action of the Republican State Committee in refusing to recommend him as temporary chairman of the State Convention. Col. Roosevelt laughed as he talked of the meeting and said the result gave him genuine pleasure. He explained his attitude by saying he felt the committee had relieved him of a responsibility in connection with the conduct and result of the campaign.

He added that he had not decided whether he would attend the convention. He would talk things over with Representative W. W. Cocks and other political leaders of his home district, he said, before deciding, and he is inclined to the belief that it would be better to stay away and let the "old guard" carry on the fight by itself.

Col. Roosevelt made it clear that under no circumstances would he allow his name to be presented to the convention as a candidate for the nomination for Governor.

Reports from the California primaries, which indicated that the "progressives" under the leadership of Hiram Johnson had won a victory, were read by Col. Roosevelt with much interest.

Cannon May Quit at Last.

Speaker Joseph G. Cannon told the old settlers of Iroquois county last Thursday that he probably was addressing them for the last time.

His speech, which had been regarded as the opening of the Illinois Congressional campaign, contained little of the old time vigor of the Representative of the Eighteenth Illinois district.

Raise Rates.

Because wages in other employment have risen the railroads are forced to advance wages 5 per cent. To meet this advance they propose a 16 per cent. advance in freight rates. Here you will find another explanation of the higher cost of living in 1911.

Hot Shot.

An aged Michigan man has left his property to two monkeys. Most testators do the same thing when they bequeath their accumulations to the average young man to spend as he chooses. —Lexington Herald.

Beautiful German.

It was the general opinion of all present that the German given last Wednesday night by the Assembly Cotillion Club at their Club Rooms in the McKee building was the prettiest and most delightful one yet given by the Club. The many intricate new figures were led by Mr. Badger Robinson and Miss Gladys Samuels.

The hall was beautifully decorated with sunflowers and golden glow, the color scheme being carried out in the favors which were appropriate and pretty.

All members of the Club were present and among the guests from a distance were Misses Susie and Ruth Warner, of Louisville; the house party of Miss Arabella Bogie, composed of Misses Margaret and Joan Mountz, of Lancaster; Miss Sallie Taylor Woods, of Stanford, and Miss Elenor Robertson, of Cincinnati.

Mrs. Kate Smith Dead.

Mrs. Kate Smith died at her home on Winn street last Wednesday night. The funeral services were held at her late residence at 10 o'clock Friday morning by Rev. W. J. Bolin. Burial in Macpelah Cemetery. Mrs. Smith was a member of the Baptist church. She was a lady of splendid Christian character, a loving and dutiful mother, enjoying a host of friends who will learn of her death with much regret. She is survived by 3 children: Miss Lucy Smith and Mrs. L. E. Griggs, of this City, and Robert Smith, of Ohio. To the bereaved family in this their hour of sorrow we extend our sincere sympathy.

Dinner Party.

Mrs. Ratliff and daughter Mrs. Ben Myers, entertained at dinner Saturday, when their guests included Rev. and Mrs. P. G. Lester, daughter and son, Mrs. N. C. Ratliff, Miss Frances Ratliff, of Owingsville; Mrs. Sallie Thomas, of Mayslick, and Miss Elizabeth McConn. —Winchester Sun-Sentinel.

Mrs. Gibbons Dead.

Mrs. Katherine Gibbons, widow of Michael Gibbons, died at her home on Elm street, in this city, August 16, after a long illness. The burial took place in St. Thomas' Cemetery. Mrs. Gibbons was born in 1837. She was one of the oldest citizens in Montgomery county. Her husband died several years ago, but she is survived by several children.

Entertained.

Misses Ida and Blanche McKee entertained the Young Woman's Missionary Society of the Christian Church with a delightful picnic at their country home on the Levee pike last Wednesday. The members of the society went from the Christian Church in a body in wagons and spent a delightful day.

Let's Inspect 'Em Here'

More than 80 per cent. of the gas meters in New York register incorrectly, according to tests made by the Public Service Commission during the month of July. Out of 25,300 meters examined, 20,250 were ordered removed and repaired.

Clark County Institute.

The Clark county teachers' institute convened at Winchester Monday. The instructors are A. C. Burton, of Morganfield, and Miss Mary Goldboro, of Minnesota. Thursday afternoon is to be Patrons' Day.

The best live stock exhibits of all at the Bourbon Fair, September 6-10. Write for catalogue.

Kemper Again A Winner.

A new amateur record was made last Wednesday afternoon on the range of the Bourbon Gun Club, when Mr. Joseph H. Kemper, of this city, won the Blue Grass Championship, making a total score of 124 birds in 125.

The tenth annual tournament for the Blue Grass Championship at targets was held on the range of the Bourbon Gun Club at the Bourbon county fair grounds, under the auspices of the gun club of that county.

For the past half a score of years this shooting meet has been of scarcely less importance to those interested in trap-shooting to that of the State tournament at which State honors are competed for. Kemper has won this contest 5 times in the last nine years.

Louisville Gets the Next Meeting of Elks.

The Kentucky Elks' Reunion Association at its final meeting at Frankfort selected Louisville as the next place of meeting, next August, and elected the following officers:

President J. Swigert Taylor, of Frankfort; first vice president, T. J. Smith, of Richmond; second vice president, Dennis Dundon, of Paris; third vice president, W. H. Albritton, of Mayfield.

W. M. O'Bryan, of Owensboro, was re-elected secretary, and T. J. O'Brien, of Covington, treasurer.

The three-year members of the Executive Committee elected were M. T. Shine, of Covington, and Ed J. Duncan, of Hopkinsville.

The invitation to hold the 1911 meeting in Louisville was extended through the Louisville Convention and Publicity League.

Carvers Still Busy.

In a general negro row in Rat Alley last week Ella Fields received an ugly gash in the right temple; John White was cut across the back and Al Young stabbed in the face below the eye and near the nose. Will Jackson, also colored, is said to have done most of the cutting, while John White is also believed to have had a hand in it to some extent.

The knife used was a small one and it took the entire strength of Dr. S. E. Spratt to remove the blade from Young's face, where it had been firmly buried. Jackson was unhurt and after the affair made his escape and has not yet been apprehended. None of the wounded negroes will die.

Miss Prewitt Entertains.

Miss Annie Caswell Prewitt entertained a large number of young people at her beautiful country home near Prewitt's Station last Thursday in honor of her visitors: Misses Martha and Anna C. VanMeter and Mary Vance, of Lexington; Laura Carpenter, of Stanford, and Nancy Cooper, of Midway. Delightful refreshments were served and all present thoroughly enjoyed the evening.

Spoke at Institute.

Mr. R. S. Eubank, editor of the Southern School Journal of Lexington, was in our city last Wednesday and made an interesting address at the teachers' institute.

Mr. Eubank is an educator of ability, with a wide experience, and is a gentleman of pleasing manner. He is a candidate for Superintendent of Public Instruction, subject to the action of the Democratic party.

Talking Through His Hat.

Our old friend, Senator Bradley, who is old enough to know better, praised the tariff bill and damned the insurgents with faint praise at the Louisville Convention. Considering, he said that most of the insurgents came from Iowa and Kansas, which furnished most of the populists, he does not think there is much need to waste sleep over them, believing that if they have not beer, entirely bereft of sanity, they will return to their first love and help in the big Republican majority that he confidently predicts.

Senator Bradley is a mighty clever man and a very smart one, but he has one particular failing and that is the propensity to talk through his old white hat. —Lexington Herald.

California Insurgents Win.

That California is insurgent in its Republican politics was proved beyond question when Hiram Johnson, leading exponent of anti-machine doctrines, swept the field in the direct primaries, winning the party's nomination for Governor by a plurality that will border on 50,000.

Just how great was the extent of the disaster in the stalwarts cannot be known until outlying districts have been heard from, but every indication points to a clean cut declaration by the party for insurgency.

Poor Man.

The Tarrytown, N. Y., Assessors have again raised their estimate of the value of John D. Rockefeller's home at Pocantico Hills. This year it goes on the roll at $300,000 instead of $250,000. Mr. Rockefeller sent word that he was perfectly satisfied with the additional assessment.

Bets Quarter of Million.

Col. Sir Henry Pellatt, Canada's richest stock broker, has bet $250,000 that the Queen's Own Rifles, which he commands, is a better, smarter and altogether more splendid regiment than any England can boast of.

"Generally debilitated for years. Had sick headaches, lacked ambition, was worn-out and all run-down. Burdock Blood Bitters made me a well woman." —Mrs. Chas. Freitoy, Moosup, Conn. —Im.

American.

Juan Moissant, the aviator who flew across the channel with a passenger on his flight from Paris to London, is an American citizen. He was born in Chicago.

At Owensboro.

One of the most important gatherings to be held in the State this year will be the convention of the Christian church of Kentucky, which will convene in Owensboro September 19 to 23, and the convention of the Christian Woman's Board of Missions and the State Bible School convention, which will be held in connection with the church convention.

It is expected that between 500 and 1,000 delegates from the State will be in attendance during the convention and an elaborate program is being prepared. A special train will be run for the delegates over the L. H. & St. L. railroad from Cincinnati, Lexington and Louisville, arriving at Owensboro September 19.

Mrs. A. M. Harrison, of Lexington, who was a delegate to the Edinburgh, Scotland, convention, will be in attendance. The church convention proper convenes on September 22. The Rev. W. E. Ellis, of Cynthiana, will preside over this convention.

W. S. Lloyd Successful.

After a great deal of effort and correspondence W. S. Lloyd, the popular druggist, has succeeded in getting the Dr. Howard Co. to make a special half-price introductory offer on the regular fifty-cent size of their celebrated specific for the cure of constipation and dyspepsia.

This medicine is a recent discovery for the cure of all diseases of the stomach and bowels. It not only gives quick relief, but it makes permanent cures.

Dr. Howard's specific has been so remarkably successful in curing constipation, dyspepsia and all liver troubles that W. S. Lloyd is willing to return the price paid in every case where it does not give relief.

So great is the demand for this specific that W. S. Lloyd has been able to secure only a limited supply, and every one who is troubled with dyspepsia, constipation or liver trouble should call upon him at once. 4-7.

Shooting in Jackson.

Jackson was awakened Thursday night by the tune of shotguns in Jackson's suburb, "Bridge Hollow," when Sam Hensley shot and seriously wounded Elmas Barnett. The contents of the shotgun took effect in Barnett's arm, tearing it almost off, and his recovery is doubtful. Speaking of the trouble both parties said that it was a "friendly affair."

Bourbon Fair.

The dates for the old reliable Bourbon Fair, September 6-10.

Do You Gamble?

Some people do by spending their time and labor and money by housing a crop of hay, oats and other farm produce, and keeping thousands of dollars invested in live stock housed in barns, and gamble with themselves that it will not burn. DO YOU?

Other people place their savings in a home and handsome furniture and then gamble on their luck that it will not burn. DO YOU?

Still others invest thousands in factories, mills, warehouses and other things subject to fire, and think they can, by careful watching, prevent a fire. DO YOU?

To all persons gambling with themselves against loss by fire, wind or tornado, we would suggest you give the matter careful consideration. Can you afford to take chances of losing part or all of your accumulations for a lifetime by gambling on your luck? We think not. See us before it is too late, and do not gamble with yourself.
